Dear Boris:

The packages of patents, brochures, and literary souvenirs arrived today in excellent shape and I am much indebted to you for letting me have these useful items.

About two and a half weeks ago I sent you a letter promptly after my return to Washington and not hearing from you by this time, I am wondering whether it ever reached you. It contained a couple of travelers checks made out in favor of Major Conradi. I am anxious to know whether they arrived safely, so please drop me a line as soon as you can.

Kirke Paulding dropped in out of a clear sky two or three days ago and spent the evening with us. I think he would have been anxious for me to talk about what I learned in Stockholm but I was rather uncommunicative, regarding it as not quite ~~his~~ ^{to tell him} business to ~~know of~~ your plans regarding new machines and modifications of old ones. I understand that he is coming to Sweden very soon and, of course, if you wish to tell him anything, that is your affair. I rather gathered that he was in pretty deep water financially with his ticket-vending machine, and I hope that he will make a go of that.

Early this week we moved a large part of our belongings to the place in the country, and I am just beginning to recover from the ordeal. Next week we have to move the remainder of our belongings to the house in town, and then try to get settled there for the winter months. We like both places very much. Our new town address will be: 1823 Q Street, N.W., Washington 9, D. C. (After Dec. 10!)

I haven't forgotten about replacing the indicator wheel assembly for your museum piece M-209 and will send it to you very soon. We have to dig one up from Philadelphia perhaps, but you'll soon be getting the piece.

Mr. Boris Hagelin
Sundsvik, Sweden

I hope that this letter finds you all in the best of health, and in case I don't get another opportunity to write to you for the Christmas holidays, I want to wish all of you a very merry Christmas and happy New Year. With best regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,
