Dear Sir,

I just had your letter of Oct. 10 and thank you for your

With regard to Billy's suggestions, I will deal with it

This is of course impossible to say beforehand.

If there could be done any business with it in the US.

If you can get me a model, I will investigate.

With regard to the patent situation, Billy can not assure that we would not dream of surging it. But the other hand, if we were to take up the manufacture, we would probably not want to finance any considerable presumably, the device in trying to sell it without an patent position in most countries. This is now only my first reaction, but I have the feeling that one of the patent points is patenting. If we can do anything with the device we will pay Bille a royalty out of the profit, so if he is willing to do us make a try, then please ask him to send a model. If possible it would facilitate waffers in the army in Sweden, if it could be used.

The successor Major Welch might be able to handle this.

As to the salt gogles, I know less than nothing about such matters, but if Billy and John cares to write me fully about it, I will answer, if I am satisfied better please I could do anything about it here.
