At 10:15 to 10:45 I presented some idea to my own, uiformed one to get his reaction. Zeller present.

1) He very appreciative & thanked me for generous offer & thinking of their behalf.

2) He quite dubious about possibility of their authority's willingness to expand by this means & any long term scheme, since:
   a) Treasury has been high (they want 3 times as big as figured on at end of WW II) and
   b) They are unable to fill quota already existent & unfilled because of shortage of manpower if the grades needed in that order help.

3) But suggested that they could employ some of their own scholars now back at their universities, set them up for a short term (year or two or so) as a special project with separate building & facilities in the way of analytical machinery does appeal to kind as very interesting & potentialities.

I thanked him. Wanted him to think of this not as being a generous offer but as a way of our getting much more for U.S. for dollar expenditure this way. So against hardening of money to other hot countries such as...

for mutual aid. Told him would discuss both on my return home & see if any legal barriers exist.
