NOTE: (Re Paragraph 3(a)(1)) On 22 June 1951, by USCIB decision, the provisions of this subparagraph were relaxed to grant a waiver in the case of citizens of Nationalist China and the Republic of Korea, both categories to be those that are clearable by Far East Command, in order that they might be used as translators of intercepted Chinese Communist voice plain text, spoken numbers and/or voice morse traffic and operator chatter.

Inclosure with USCIB 13/194, 6 July 1951.
