[4-part message complete]

When the [EXEMPT] learned that the Sovereign Pontiff had decided to go to Jerusalem, they hastened to express their satisfaction, as they always do every time they note any sign of interest whatsoever shown by foreign countries with regard to the Near East. Then they went on to express the hope that the Pope would not fail to note, during his pilgrimage, the harm which Israel had done to the Arab people of Palestine.

Finally, the tone in which the Israeli radio, which is listened to here more than is acknowledged, praised the event prompted them to formulate a few reservations, and a Damascus newspaper went so far as to wonder whether President KENNEDY's assassination, the attempts made in the Council to reinstate the Jewish people, and finally the pontifical pilgrimage were not all part of a plot instigated by Zionism to facilitate the diversion of the waters of the Jordan.

gave me the impression, with regard to nonrecognition,

that he had reassured the

I wonder, since I know a little about Rome, whether the Holy See has addressed Tel Aviv in such plain language, but I confess that I was surprised by that which I heard from the mouth of a prelate who had just received his latest instructions from the Secretariat
