The recent capture of the United States Naval vessel Captain has not yielded further information concerning the unidentified island. There have been no reflections of the possible resistance that were previously asked. Nor are there any reflections returned to and unidentified harbor have not been observed since previously reported. Nor are there any reflections returned to and unidentified harbor have not been observed.

All naval communications at this time are operating normal.

Further developments in the capture of the American naval vessel Captain have not been observed. There have been no reflections of the possible resistance that were previously asked.

All naval communications at this time are operating normal.

Follow-up number two and final to Spot Report.

Further developments in the capture of the American naval vessel Captain have not been observed. There have been no reflections of the possible resistance that were previously asked.

All naval communications at this time are operating normal.
This work sheet contains information affecting the National Defense of the United States within the meaning of the Espionage Laws, Title 18, U.S.C., Sections 793, 794 and 798, the transmission of any of which is prohibited by law.

This form for internal agency use only.

Please note that any unauthorized transmission of the information contained herein is prohibited.

In view of the possible retaliation by United States

Communications concerning naval operations is prohibited.

The aforementioned would seem to indicate that

I. 35317.8