[b] From this point it is difficult to see how the different elements of the text cohere. "Escort type" is nominative or accusative, and we might expect to have a period after "cannon" and to understand "for" before "escort", but "for" occurs before "naval aircraft armament". Again, "submarines" and "craft" are in the instrument case (implying a "with" before them?), but there hardly seems room to make any reasonable transition from "aircraft armament" to "submarines" etc.
