12/6/97

To: The CHIEF DIRECTOR.

Reference your No. 157.

1. I did not start[a] the [R% discussion] about the trip to VANCOUVER. Rear-Admiral JONES[DEBONS], Chief of the Naval Staff, suggested to me [C% at a luncheon] that I should go to VANCOUVER [1 group unrecovered], where I [1 group unrecovered] with a [C% courier].

2. On [1 group unrecovered] journey I plan to travel [via][b]:

(a) WINNIPEG - training centres for infantry, artillery and parachute troops.

(b) KINGSTON: the largest officer training centre[,][b] [R% saving] the OTTAWA area - the air training centres - for ROGOV's[1] trip.

3. [1 group unrecovered][c] the General Staff invited us to inspect an aluminium combine. I decided not to refuse since this is a trip which does not involve work [EKSKURSIONNAYA POEZDKA]. Latterly we have not [C% strictly]

[14 groups unrecovered]

. EVSTIGNEEV[11] intends to arrange for LEFEBVRE [LEFEBR][111] to visit the front and I was asked what I thought about this. If a trip like this were granted him, we could get greater opportunities [C% for trips]. I consider that it is [R% perhaps] not worth turning down VANCOUVER just because we do not study the West, and the trip is proposed for April-May.

[11 groups unrecoverable]
