

CLIP 1:

That the strength of us as an organization not only is the capabilities of the motivated men and women who generate insights and knowledge that help ensure the security of this nation as well as our friends and allies but the fact that that insight is always generated within a legal framework. And that we are totally committed to adhering to that legal framework. It goes to our very ethos, it goes to our very culture