| 101829           | 30-May-17            | 6-lun-17      | ROBERT MAYERSON             | (U) Interested in an event of Critical nature, in which I was intimately involved, over 45 years ago, during the Arab-Israeli War(s): The attempted (i.e. failed) shootdown of a USAF Security Service communications reconnaissance C-130 aircraft, by three Egyptian-based, Soviet-piloted MiG jet Fighters, over international waters, and their subsequent loss in the Southeast Mediterranean Sea. I was the "#2 op" (linguist/airborne intercept analyst). Recently, a chance meeting with a Norwich University (NH) junior year student, entering the Air Force after graduation (intelligence officer, Afghanistan) asked if I had any "war stories". He corrected: "it wasn't the Arab-Israeli War, it was the War of Attritionwe had that document in class a few weeks ago." He said it was called: "Three never returned" or "Three didn't come back." I would certainly be interested in that document that was presented to at least one classroom of 20 year old students!  | Duplicate Reques             |
