Major General William T. Spivay, USAF
 Commander
 Central Air Defense Force
 Kansas City, Missouri

Dear General Spivay:

On behalf of the Special Study Group, I want wholeheartedly to express our appreciation of the assistance you have given us during our recent visit to your Headquarters. Your lucid discussion, based upon your experience in Japan and with your present Command, gave us a better understanding of the role of intelligence in the air defense problem, and has helped us to focus our attention on those elements of the problem which are most vital.

Please accept our sincere thanks for the opportunity to discuss these matters with you.

Very sincerely yours,

H. P. ROBERTSON
