Mr. Henry E. Langen

Dear Mr. Langen:

Some day maybe I can find an extra copy of the addendum to my article on Edgar Allan Poe and I'll send it to you. It is more interesting than the basic article - but it is so rare that I'm not sure I can dig up a copy.

You have no doubt found by this time that collecting old items on cryptography is rather expensive. I started a good many years ago but I wish now I had started long before that.

I wish you luck on your forthcoming volume on cryptography. When it is published I'll send you my copy for autographing.

Mrs. Friedman retired from the active practice right after V-J Day, saying she'd had enough!

Sincerely,

WILLIAM F. FRIEDMAN
