Dear Mr. Friedman:

I want to take this opportunity to extend my warm appreciation for the interesting and enlightening lectures which you gave to my Operations people on the 14th and 15th of this month.

As you well know, there frequently is a morale problem with people in our business who work in a restricted and confined environment and are not fully aware of the "team" of which they are a part, nor of the importance and potential of their business. Your talks have been of immeasurable value in relieving this situation.

I hope we may have the opportunity to hear your talks again in the not too distant future, possibly some time next autumn.

Again, let me extend my sincere thanks for your time and efforts.

Sincerely yours,

ORVILLE LAIRD
Colonel, USAF
Director of Operations
