

THE NEW YORK TIMES, SUNDAY, JUNE 10, 1945

Authority for releasing to the public scientific and technical data, held from the public because of considerations of military security, was vested by President Truman today, June 9 through an Executive Order in Fred M. Vinson, Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

Mr. Truman authorized Mr. Vinson to review all the information and make recommendations to the War and Navy Departments and Government agencies concerned. The decision of the Secretary of War or Navy, or both, will be object.

Mr. Vinson will deal similarly with the State Department in cases involving information of interest to foreign governments and to the release of which they might object.

An interdepartmental board, consisting of Mr. Vinson, as chairman, the Attorney General, and the Secretaries of the Interior, Agriculture, Commerce and Labor, will advise concerning the release of information for publication.
