ENEMY TAPPED U. N. LINES

8th Army Source Asserts Vital Secrets Were Obtained

Seoul, Korea, Sunday, July 5--The Communists have obtained "vital information" by tapping United Nations communications systems in Korea, an English Army source disclosed yesterday.

It was not revealed what secrets had reached the enemy, but reliable sources said the Far East Command had been especially concerned about leaks on troop movements.

"It is a known fact that the Reds have in the past tapped our various communications systems and learned vital information that should never have reached their ears," the Eighth Army source said.

He added that security regulations had been tightened. Other sources said general officers had been reprimanded for breaches of security on vital United Nations military planning.
