(U) OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

(U) Chartered by the NSA Director and by statute, the Office of the Inspector General conducts audits, investigations, inspections, and special studies. Its mission is to ensure the integrity, efficiency, and effectiveness of NSA operations, provide intelligence oversight, protect against fraud, waste, and mismanagement of resources by the Agency and its affiliates, and ensure that NSA activities comply with the law. The OIG also serves as an ombudsman, assisting NSA/CSS employees, civilian and military.

(U) AUDITS

(U) The audit function provides independent assessments of programs and organizations. Performance audits evaluate the effectiveness and efficiency of entities and programs and their internal controls. Financial audits determine the accuracy of the Agency’s financial statements. All audits are conducted in accordance with standards established by the Comptroller General of the United States.

(U) INVESTIGATIONS

(U) The OIG administers a system for receiving complaints (including anonymous tips) about fraud, waste, and mismanagement. Investigations may be undertaken in response to those complaints, at the request of management, as the result of irregularities that surface during inspections and audits, or at the initiative of the Inspector General.

(U) INTELLIGENCE OVERSIGHT

(U) Intelligence oversight is designed to insure that Agency intelligence functions comply with federal law, executive orders, and DoD and NSA policies. The IO mission is grounded in Executive Order 12333, which establishes broad principles under which IC components must accomplish their missions.

(U) FIELD INSPECTIONS

(U) Inspections are organizational reviews that assess the effectiveness and efficiency of Agency components. The Field Inspections Division also partners with Inspectors General of the Service Cryptologic Elements and other IC entities to jointly inspect consolidated cryptologic facilities.
I. (U) SUMMARY

(U//FOOU) On 26 September 2013 the Inspector General (IG) received a referral from the NSA/CSS Information Systems Incident Response Team (NISIRT) identifying potential computer misuse by an NSA/CSS contractor. On 19 November 2013 the IG initiated an investigation of the use of NSA/CSS Information System (IS). The investigation included a review of the NISIRT evidence and an interview of...

(U//FOOU) The preponderance of the evidence collected during the investigation substantiates that [redacted] misused his classified NSA/CSS IS. [redacted] used Government resources to engage in non-work related chat, at times using sexually explicit language, in violation of NSA/CSS Policies 6-4 and 6-12. Based on NISIRT estimates [redacted] engaged in approximately 4 hours of non-work related instant messaging each day during the days analyzed; 4, 7, 10, and 12 September 2013.

(U//FOOU) A summary memorandum will be provided to the Maryland Procurement Office and the Office of the General Counsel. An informational summary memorandum will be provided to Contractor Clearances, ADS&Cl; and Special Actions, ADS&Cl.

(U) Applicable Authorities

(U/FOUO) NSA/CSS Policy 6-12, “COLLABORATIVE COMMUNICATION ON CLASSIFIED NSA/CSS INFORMATION SYSTEMS” revised date 14 February 2014.

(U) See Appendix A for the full text of the applicable authorities
III. (U) FINDINGS

(U/FOUO) Did a former contractor, misuse his NSA/CSS IS in violation of NSA/CSS Policies 6-4 and 6-12?

(U/FOUO) CONCLUSION: Substantiated. The preponderance of the evidence supports the conclusion that a contractor misused his classified NSA/CSS IS. He used Government resources to engage in non-work related chat, at times using sexually explicit language, in violation of NSA/CSS Policies 6-4 and 6-12. Based on NISIRT estimates, he engaged in approximately 4 hours of non-work related instant messaging each day during the 4 days analyzed in September 2013.

(U) Documentary Evidence

(U) NISIRT Report

(U/FOUO) The NISIRT provided the OIG with an analysis of activities on the classified NSA/CSS IS. He was observed chatting for extended periods of time per day regarding non-work related material. In many of these conversations, he used sexually explicit language. Based on NISIRT estimates, he engaged in approximately 4 hours of non-work related chat each day during the days analyzed: 4, 7, 10, and 12 September 2013. The full NISIRT report can be found at Appendix B.

(U) Testimonial Evidence

(U/FOUO) On 12 December 2013, was interviewed and provided the following sworn testimony:

(U/FOUO) He has been in NSA spaces since June 2012 as a job entails estimated that the work he performed on the contract was routine and uneventful.

(U/FOUO) On the classified network, he admitted he occasionally performed queries on wikis and chatted with friends using an instant messaging system. He claimed the chats were primary personal and rarely contract related. He would initiate queries on that would take 2 to 15 minutes to run, so he would chat while waiting for the results of a particular query. He admitted that he used chat more often when the work was slow.
While running a query or during short breaks, chatted with close friends. Estimated that the short breaks would last less than 5 minutes about 5 to 10 times per day. Stated that the conversations were mostly gaming related or jokes back and forth. Admitted that some of his conversations were adult oriented and sexual in nature. Claimed that he and his friends have a crude sense of humor. Admitted that the content of the conversations were inappropriate in a workplace environment.

Stated that he billed for the time in which he chatted on non-contract activities. According to his initial estimate, the time spent chatting added up to about 25 to 50 minutes per day. When confronted with the much higher estimates by NSIIRT, admitted that some days his chats could total 3 to 4 hours per day and admitted that his estimates "must not be accurate." Stated "That's a lot. Wow. I didn't think it was nearly that much to be honest. I know I have some days that are really, really slow. But I did not think it anywhere near that much. I certainly did not intent for it to be like that. I absolutely see that it [the instant messaging] is unacceptable."

Admitted that his chat sessions were not a good use of the IS but stated his intent was not to violate policy. Has used the chat program in this manner since he started working in NSA spaces in 2012. Admitted in the last couple of months the contract work was "getting to him" and it had become a challenge to remain engaged in the routine and monotonous contract work.

Analysis and Conclusions

Contractor's use of Agency IS for personal use is extremely limited. Personal use of the IS was not authorized by contract, and it clearly exceeded the brief, infrequent communications permitted by NSA/CSS Policy 6-4. In addition, his use of sexually explicit language in chat reflects negatively on the Agency. The fact that billed the time spent to the Government conducting his personal chat is an additional violation of NSA/CSS Policy 6-4.

Use of the NSA/CSS IS also violated Policy 6-12. The policy states users of collaboration tools and services, including chat, should be for work-related purposes only. Used the NSA/CSS IS for personal, non-work and sexually explicit chat. Additionally, personal use of the government provided IS served no legitimate public interest.

Testimony confirmed that he was spending an excessive amount of time (4 hours per day) on non-contract activities. This activity was eventually billed to a U.S. Government contract. Documentary evidence combined with testimony supports the allegation that he misused his classified NSA/CSS IS.
IV. (U) RESPONSE TO TENTATIVE CONCLUSION

(U//FOUO) [Redacted] was provided the tentative conclusions, via his unclassified personal email account, on 7 March 2014. [Redacted] responded to the tentative conclusion stating:

I agree that your conclusion is accurate and would like to make a statement on my behalf. I am deeply apologetic for my conduct and understand that it was neither appropriate nor professional. Being unaware of the policy does not excuse my actions and I take full responsibility for them. It certainly was not my intent to misuse classified information systems and I can assure you that it will not happen in the future should I continue working at or for the NSA. Thank you.

(U//FOUO) The conclusion of this investigation remains unchanged.
